

November 05 2008

The Golf Club @ Anaheim Hills will award it's best overall player by way of point accumulation, with the title of Player of the Year.

Points will be accumulated from each event that a golfer plays in. Points will be distributed across all flights evenly, and will be earned from positions 1 through 10.

Double points for Major Events and City Championships.

The player with the most accumulated points at the end of the 2009 event calendar, will be named Player of the Year.

Here's how it works.
