JUNIOR GOLF FOUNDATION

2019 ANNUAL REPORT

The SCGA Junior Golf Foundation develops an inclusive golf community that enables kids to thrive on and beyond the course. We believe that every kid in Southern California, no matter their circumstance, should have the option to pursue the game and benefit from the opportunities that it provides.

PRESIDENT'S NOTE

Another year at the SCGA Junior Golf Foundation has come to a close, and we are so excited to share some of our greatest successes. What we're really proud of, is that while we are developing better golfers, we're also helping create better people. In this year's annual report, we're showcasing just how we change kids' lives on and beyond the course.

After the discounted buckets, group instruction and on-course opportunities that we provide, we're also helping juniors learn about and attend college, connect with mentors and we're developing a diverse and inclusive community for all kids in this game.

Please enjoy our annual report and join us in celebrating everything that we've accomplished together, because without your support, none of this would be possible. On behalf of everyone at the SCGA Junior Golf Foundation, thank you.

With gratitude,

I feel honored to be a part of the SCGA Junior All-Star team because we played against a lot of boys and it's cool to know that our whole team was girls and that girls can make up a full high-level team. Even if we don't hit it as far as the boys, we can still beat them and be just as good or better.”

SOPHIA MARTINEZ:

BREAKING DOWN BARRIERS FOR GIRLS

This game continues to motivate me to be a better version of myself. Golf teaches you to be independent, patient, honest, respectful, a problem solver and numerous other values. When I am presented with a tough shot or bad round, I always remind myself to remain positive and apply good decision-making steps to solve the problem."

scgajunior Mentorship: it's what it's all about 🙌 Thanks to everyone at @northranchcc that made today possible #mentorplayday

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S NOTE

As we continue to shape our mission, we have seen that our intentional, high-impact programming in underserved communities creates a difference for kids on and beyond the course. We've spent a significant portion of 2019 working with Claremont Graduate University doctoral research candidates to study our Southeast LA community and identify and quantify the ways that our program makes a difference – the magic of it if you will.

With CGU, we've been able to see that the magic lies within the community we create. We include kids, parents and stakeholders to foster an environment where everybody can grow together. As you've seen, we combine golf and nongolf activities to meet kids where they are and help them feel included at the course. This community that we create has a ripple effect that extends far beyond the course.

Sports don't inherently teach positive youth development. Our intentional programming creates impact and our properly trained coaches become role models who develop positive character traits in our kids. We're building community and changing kids' lives, not just as golfers, but also as people. This is why what we do is so important.

Our beneficial outcomes extend beyond technical golf skill and include social, emotional, relationship and cognitive-behavior skills.

The program element that stands out for me is the coaches who constantly see the positive in everything the children do."

- Southeast LA parent

On average, parents reported seeing changes occur after 60 hours of program participation.

This year, we brought our Player & Youth Development Program to the San Fernando Valley and have hosted nearly 200 juniors for programming. We've developed relationships with local schools and organizations and are always looking for additional ways to grow. We hosted a series of Sunday Funday activities for this community that were fun, themed events that combined golf and nongolf activities. We are excited to see the success and impact of the PYD program, and our work with CGU will further improve our efforts.

As we move forward, we're even more excited to continue our growth and bring our programming to another region that needs our help. This year, we will be launching PYD programming in Riverside. We have identified Riverside as a community that is underserved in golf and we look forward to helping build a community of golfers.

Thanks to you, 2019 was a great year as we began the growth of our PYD program. 2020 is going to be even bigger and better for us as we continue to grow and expand.

With thanks,

Kevin Gigax
Executive Director
